Lesson 4.1

Indirect Objects

4.1 Indirect Objects

✎ An indirect object is a noun or pronoun that comes before the direct object.

It tells to whom or for whom the action of the verb is done.

A sentence cannot have an indirect object unless it has a direct object.

Gwendolyn told Kendrick a story.

Subject

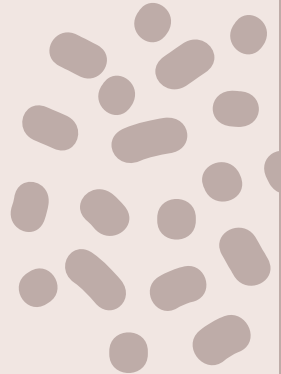

Verb

Indirect Object

Direct Object

4.1 Indirect Objects

✎ The direct object receives the action of the verb.

Gwendolyn told Kendrick a story.

Gwendolyn told what? Told a story.

The word Kendrick is the indirect object. It tells to whom the story is told.

If you identify the direct object first, then the indirect object will be easier to find.

4.1 Indirect Objects

✎ An indirect object never follows a preposition such as to or for in a sentence. If it does follow a preposition, it is the object of the preposition and not an indirect object.

Gwendolyn told a story to Kendrick.

In this example, the word Kendrick follows preposition and is not an indirect object. It is the object of the preposition to.

4.1 Indirect Objects

Examples: (Indirect object= IO, Object of the preposition= OP)

IO: Miriam baked the girls some bread.

OP: Miram baked some bread for the IO: Jalisa asked Raymond questions.girls.

OP: Jalisa asked questions of Raymond.

Lesson 2

Diagramming Indirect Objects

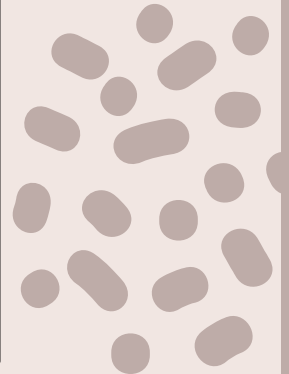

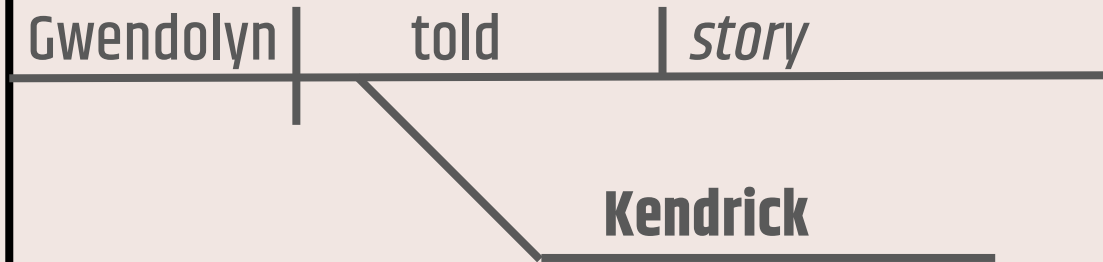

4.2 Diagramming Indirect Objects

 Diagram an indirect object by placing it on a horizontal line below the verb. Connect it to the verb with a diagonal line.

4.2 Diagramming Indirect Objects

✎ Gwendolyn told Kendrick a story.

4.2 Diagramming Indirect Objects

Diagram the following:

1. Miriam baked the girls some bread.
2. Jalisa asked Raymond questions.
3. Alexander offered the dogs some treats.

Lesson 3

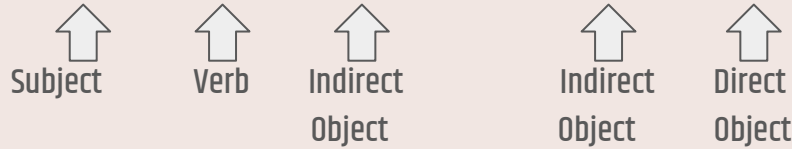

Compound Indirect Objects

4.3 Compound Indirect Object

✎ Some sentences have more than one indirect object. This is called a compound indirect object.

Connie sent Natalie and me a letter.

In this example, the subject is Connie, the verb is sent, and the indirect object is letter. The direct object receives the action of the verb. Sent what? Sent a letter. The words Natalie and me are the indirect objects. They tell to whom the letter is sent.

4.3 Compound Indirect Object

More examples:

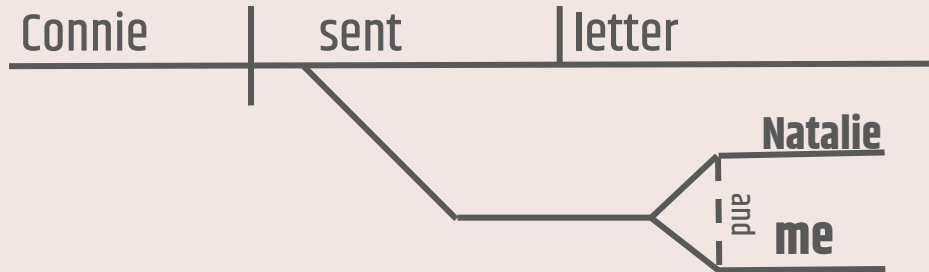

1. Kimberly made her brother and sister some lasagna.
2. The guide offered the men and women a tour.
3. Brandon showed Lucia and me a gold coin.

4.3 Compound Indirect Object

 A compound indirect object is diagrammed by placing the indirect objects on two horizontal lines below the verb, one above the other, joined by diagonal lines. This is connected to the verb by a diagonal line. The conjunction is written on a dotted line that connects the two indirect object lines.

Connie sent Natalie and me a letter.

Diagram the following:

1. Kimberly made her brother and sister some lasagna.
2. The guide offered the men and women a tour.
3. Brandon showed Lucia and me gold coin.

Lesson 4

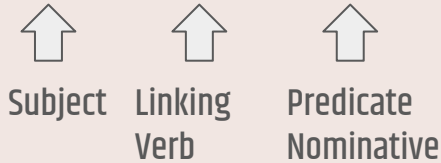

Predicate Nominatives

4.4 Predicate Nominatives

✎ A predicate nominative is a noun or pronoun that follows a linking verb and renames or identifies the subject of the sentence.

That building is a theater.

In this example, the noun theater follows the linking verb is and renames the subject building. Theater is a predicate nominative in this sentence.

4.4 Predicate Nominatives

Examples

1. Megan was a gymnast
2. My uncle is a rancher.
3. Roscoe was a happy puppy.

✎ Note! A direct object is a noun or pronoun that follows an action verb, but a predicate nominative is a noun or pronoun that follows a linking verb.

4.4 Predicate nominatives

✎ Diagram a predicate nominative on the same line as the subject and linking verb. It is separated from the linking verb by a short diagonal line that does not break through the horizontal line.

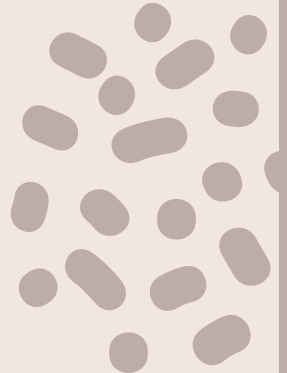

4.4 Predicate nominatives

That building is a theater.

building | is \ theater

Megan was a gymnast.

Megan | was \ gymnast

4.4 Predicate Nominatives

✎ Sometimes a sentence has more than one predicate nominative. This is called a compound predicate nominative.

Those boys are Jackson and Robert.

In this example, the nouns Jackson and Robert follow the linking verb are and rename the subject boys. Jackson and Robert are predicate nominatives and make the compound predicate nominative.

4.4 Predicate Nominatives

Examples

1. My uncle is a carpenter and an architect.
2. The winners were Darnell and Melissa.
3. Our snack was cheese and crackers.

4.4 Predicate nominatives

 Diagram a compound predicate nominative after the diagonal line on two horizontal lines, one above the other, joined by diagonal lines. The conjunction is written on the dotted line that connects the predicate nominative lines.

Those boys are Jackson and Robert.

Lesson 5

Predicate Adjectives

4.5 Predicate Adjectives

✎ A predicate adjective follows a linking verb and describes the subject of the sentence.

Suzanne is beautiful.

Subject

Linking
Verb

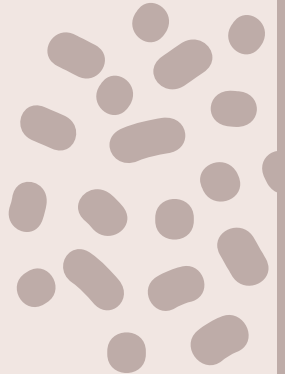

Predicate
Adjective

In this example, the adjective beautiful follows the linking verb is and describes the subject Suzanne. Beautiful is the predicate adjective in this sentence.

4.5 Predicate Adjectives

Examples

1. Angelica looks exhausted.
2. The view was spectacular.
3. The blanket feels warm.

4.5 Predicate adjectives

✎ Diagram a predicate adjective the same way you would a predicate nominative.

Suzanne is beautiful.

4.5 Predicate Adjectives

✎ Often a sentence has more than one predicate adjective. This is called a compound predicate adjective.

The sky appears dark and cloudy.

In this example, the adjectives dark and cloudy follow the linking verb appears and describe the subject sky. Dark and cloudy are predicate adjectives and make the compound predicate adjective.

4.5 Predicate Adjectives

 Diagram a compound predicate adjective the same way you would a compound predicate nominative.
The sky appears dark and cloudy.

Lesson 6

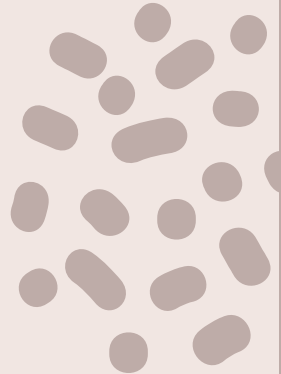

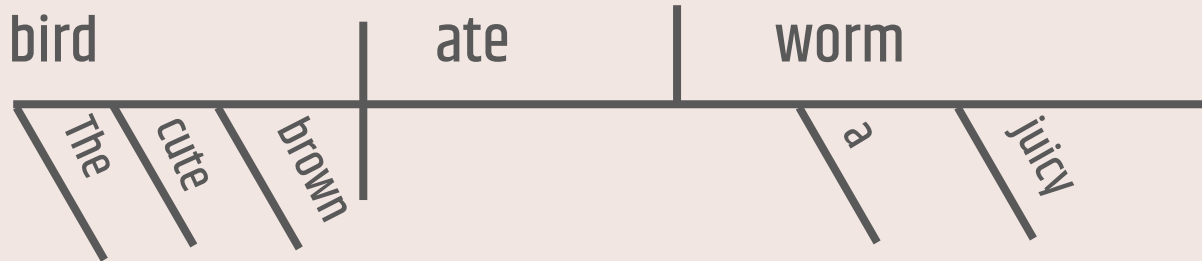

Diagramming Adjectives

4.6 Diagramming Adjectives

- ✎ On a sentence diagram, place each adjective on a slanted line beneath the subject, direct object, indirect object, or predicate noun it describes.

The cute, brown bird ate a juicy worm.

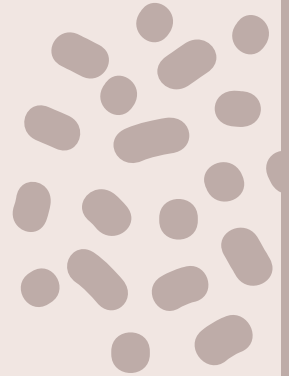

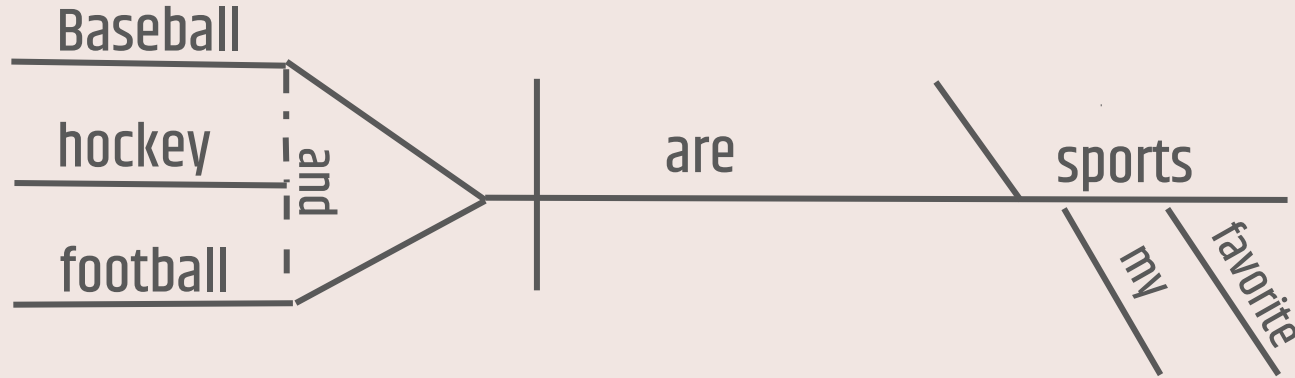

4.6 Diagramming Adjectives

Miriam baked the girls some delicious bread.

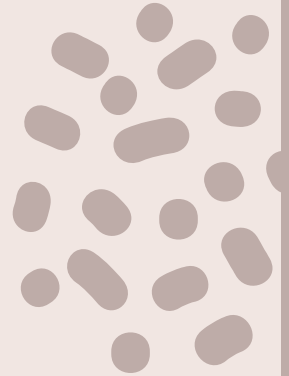

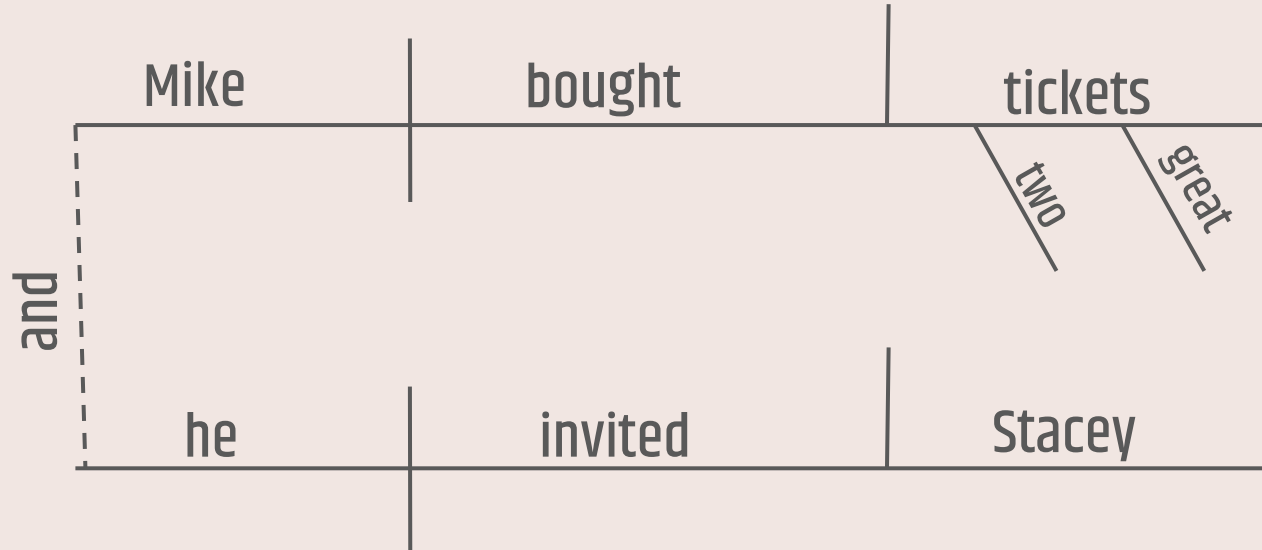

4.6 Diagramming Adjectives

Baseball, hockey, and football are my favorite sports.

4.6 Diagramming Adjectives

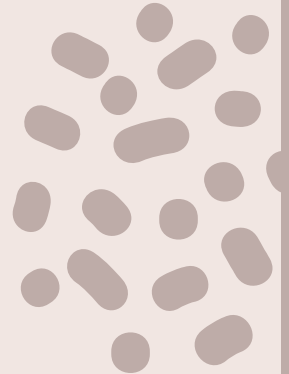

Mike bought two great tickets, and he invited Stacey.

4.6 Diagramming Adjectives

- ✎ Like other adjectives, diagram appositive adjectives under the noun they modify. The conjunction is placed on a dotted line that connects the two adjectives.

Jessica's hair, long and silky, reflected the light.

4.6 Diagramming Adjectives

The wind, loud and howling, scared the children.

Lesson 7

Diagramming Adverbs

4.7 Diagramming Adverbs

✎ Remember, an adverb is a word that describes a verb, an adjective, or another adverb.

Modifying verbs: tells us how, when, where, how often, to what extent.

Kristin cooked dinner here. (Where?)

Begin questions: how, when, where, and why

When is the game?*

Interrupts verb phrase: not, never, always, hardly

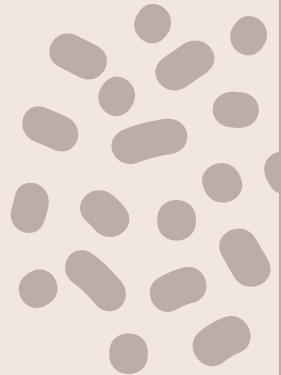

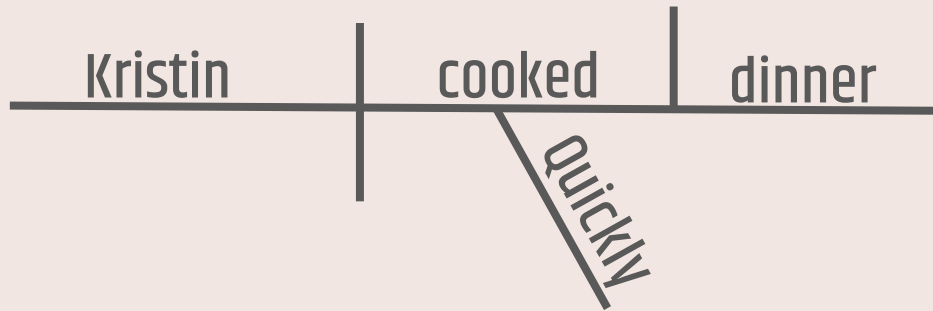

Marta didn't find the book.

4.7 Diagramming Adverbs

- ✎ An adverb that modifies a verb is diagrammed on a slanted line under the verb it describes.

Quickly Kristin cooked dinner.

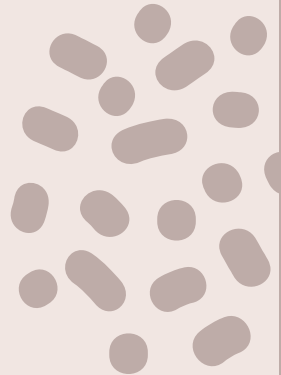

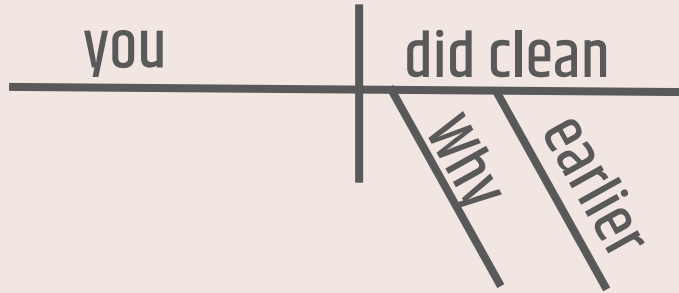

4.7 Diagramming Adverbs

How did you know?

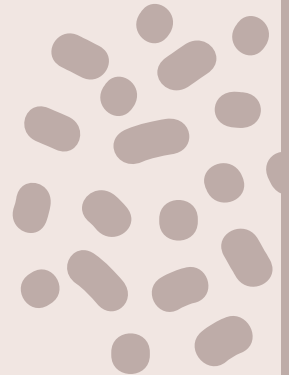

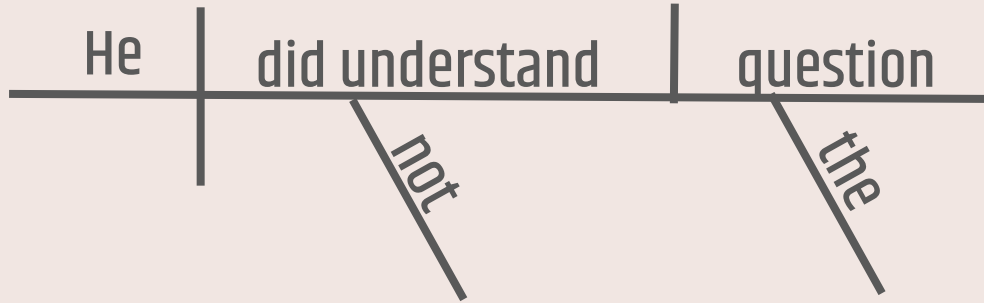

4.7 Diagramming Adverbs

Why did you clean earlier?

4.7 Diagramming Adverbs

He did not understand the question.

Lesson 8

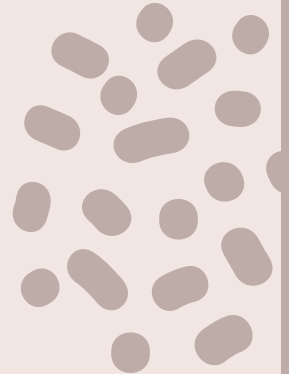

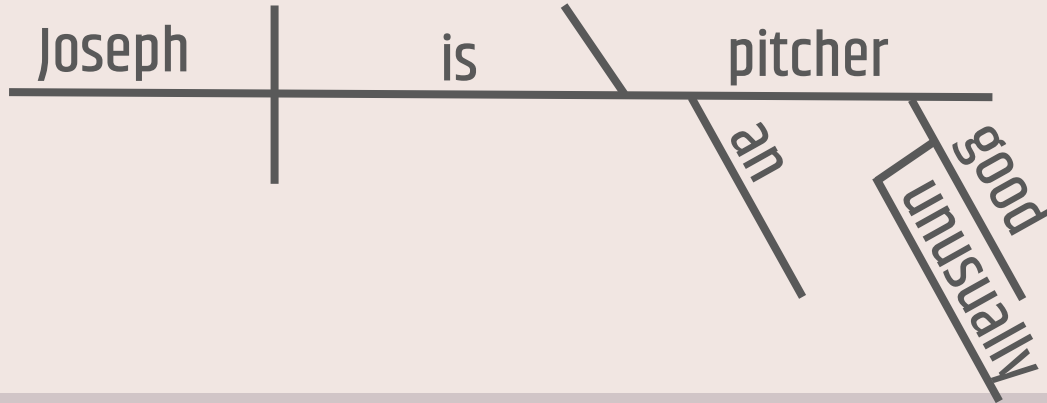

Diagramming Adverbs that
Modify Adjectives

4.7 Diagramming that Modify Adjectives

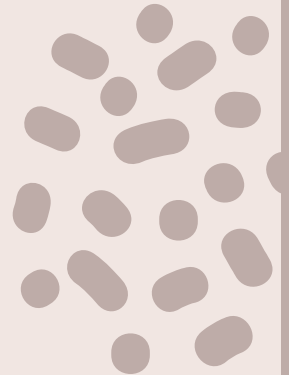

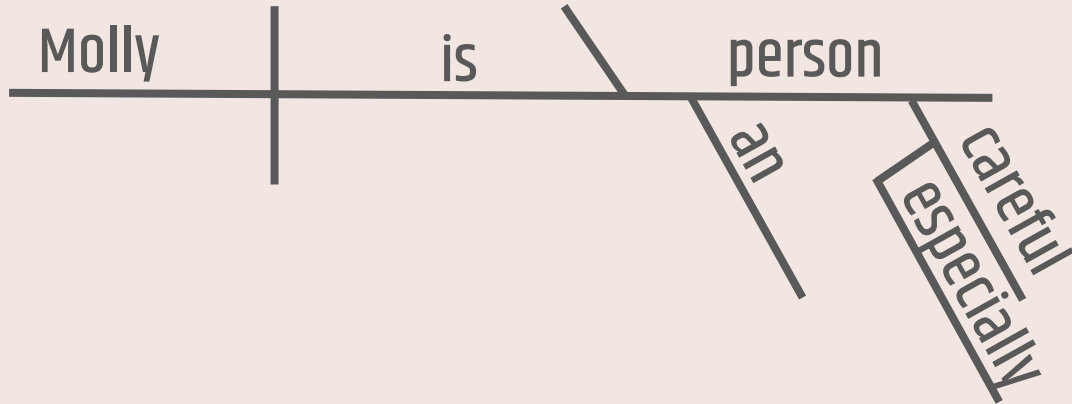

✎ An adverb that modifies an adjective is diagrammed beneath the adjective it modifies.

Joseph is an unusually good pitcher.

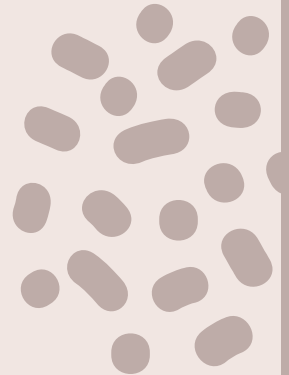

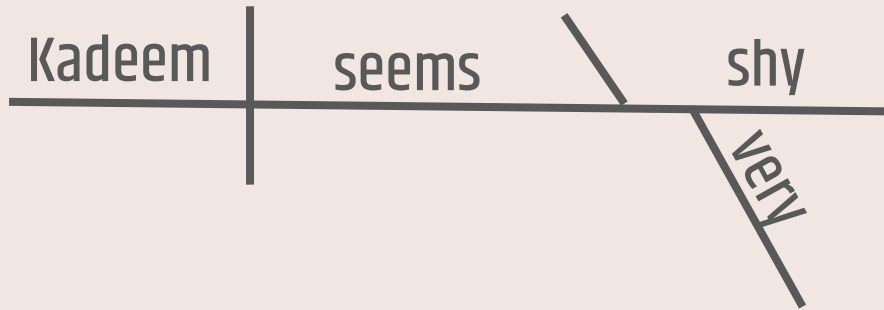

4.8 Diagramming that Modify Adjectives

Molly is an especially careful person.

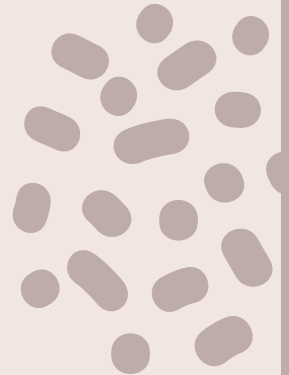

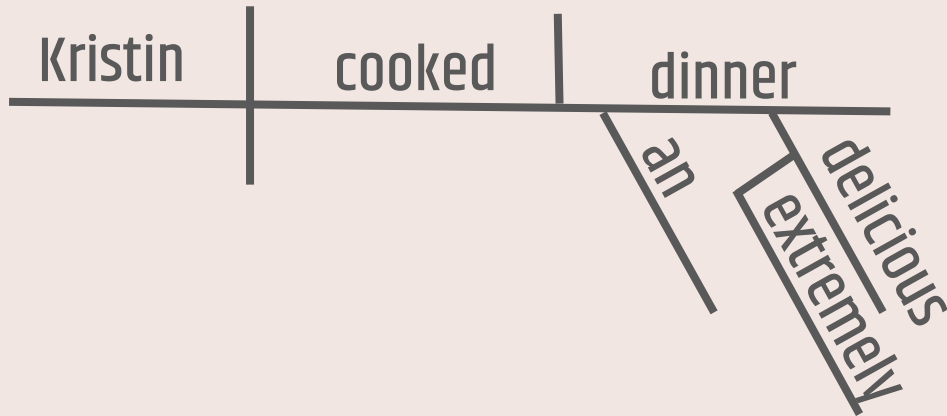

4.8 Diagramming that Modify Adjectives

Kadeem seems very shy.

4.8 Diagramming that Modify Adjectives

Kristin cooked an extremely delicious dinner.

Lesson 9

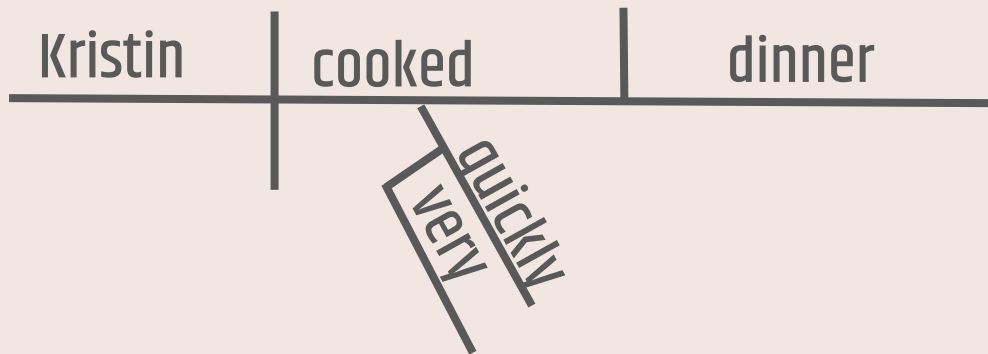

Diagramming Adverbs that
Modify Other Adverbs

4.9 Diagramming Adverbs that Modify Other Adverbs

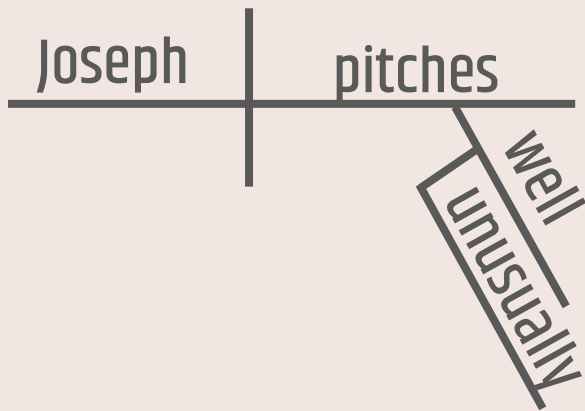

- ✎ An adverb that modifies another adverb is diagrammed beneath the adverb it modifies.

Kristin very quickly cooked dinner.

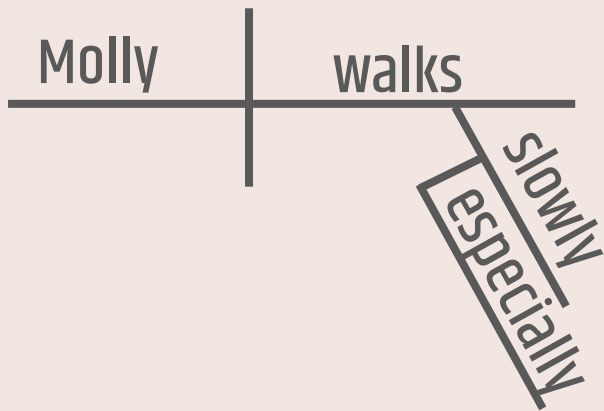

4.9 Diagramming Adverbs that Modify Other Adverbs

Joseph pitches unusually well.

4.9 Diagramming Adverbs that Modify Other Adverbs

Molly walks especially slowly.

4.9 Diagramming Adverbs that Modify Other Adverbs

Kadeem very recently cleaned
